Note. None of the Dantz Horse or Foot are here particularly inserted, which are 6000 Foot and 1000 Horse.

Colonel Owlesley, (since his Shot upon the Belly, and upon recovery) sent out a Detachment of his Horse seventeen miles into the Irish Quarters (beyond our Frontiers) who upon Sunday 18 Instant put to flight the Irish, and brought back Fourhunder'd Black Cattle; Threehunder'd Sheep and Lambs, and Eighty Horse, whereof about Twenty fit to serve for Dragoons.

An Intelligence from Dublin informs; that the French have begun to Fire the Suburbs, in order to make the City more defensive, and less obnoxious to our Incursions and Bombs. 'Tis believed they will burn every place they desert, on design to prevent our Winter Quarters near them in Houses, and to enforce us to encamp, whereby the cold Weather might destroy our Army.

At present all Affairs wait the Kings Arrival, (which God grant safe and speedy,) and then a method of marching will soon follow.

The Quarters of the Army uncertain, being every day rowling, & much scatter'd.

Note, Tho each Troop and Company are said to have the foregoing Numbers, of Men, yet few or none are full; neither have they Arms for near the Number, and many are arm'd with Scythes

The French Recruits, Landed this Spring, are not incerted.

But 'tis observable, That the Irish and French cannot march into Field with this Number, nor Encamp, because by all reasonable Conjecture, their Garrisons will require, VIZ. Dublin 7000. Drogbeda 3000. Cork 1000. Kingsail 3000. Limerick 2000. Galway 2000. Athlone 2000.

Also their Policy is to defer the War upon a Defence; hoping the Brats Pay will exhaust the English Current Coyn.

The Keys of Dublin are in French Hands: The Bomb-Carts and Carriages Painted with Flower de Luce. So that the Distinction is not so much William and James, as England and France, or Protestant and Papist.
